

Disclaimer

Legal note regarding the rights to content published on the website of Alumetal S.A. Group www.alumetal.pl

The content of this website is owned and controlled by ALUMETAL S.A. All copyrights to the materials published on the website are reserved. The user may download and print the contents published on this website, provided that copyrights and rights from registered trademarks, trade names and other proprietary rights of ALUMETAL Group companies are not violated.

The content published on this website has been prepared by ALUMETAL S.A., and it is only for information purposes and does not constitute, in whole or in part, the basis for concluding any agreement or undertaking any obligation as well as a recommendation to invest in the securities of ALUMETAL S.A. ALUMETAL Group makes every effort to ensure that all information published on the website is complete and accurate.

However, ALUMETAL Group shall not be liable:

- for decisions taken by users on the basis of the information published on the website,
- for the consequences of using information by users obtained from the website as well as losses directly or indirectly incurred by the users or third parties,
- for damages, harm or other adverse effects resulting from the user's access to this website or failure to access to this website,
- for the accuracy, timeliness and completeness of the information published.